

Important information about your Wide Format Printer

Your large format printer should always remain plugged in and turned on.

Keeping your printer plugged in and powered on is critical to maintain print quality and optimization of your printer.

The printer will go into sleep mode but still allow installation of updates and periodic initializers needed. It will also periodically run a cleaning procedure to help keep the print heads clear.

It is important to print once or twice a week to prevent damage to your printheads.

Printing is important to help prevent clogged printheads and print quality issues during long periods without use.

For other questions regarding how to best maintain your large format printer please contact Repro Products at (770) 434-3050.

Repro Products is not responsible for any damage caused from printers that have been left unplugged or not properly maintained during low usage periods.

We appreciate your business.