

Customer Challenge: End user was responsible for campus facility documentation record keeping and had not been exposed to Revit before. Files from design teams were being received in DWG & Revit format and they required an increased comfort level to open and operate.

Solution: We did training discovery, developed curricula and delivered training remotely.

Conclusion: Training was successful and covered the items needed for daily workflow, which includes campus, new construction and space renovation projects. They are Interested in additional training in the future.